The Volunteer Center of Milwaukee suggested developing waivers, similar to those used by Habitat for Humanity for parents to sign. The waiver would cover risk, responsibility and transportation. They also suggested setting policies for every detail, including chaperones, supervision and specific tasks according to age. A permission slip should also be developed that would be signed by the youth, parent and agency. Additional Coalition Partners would need to be involved with volunteer opportunities.

Public hearings are held if a license has been applied for and already at quota, notice for hearing will be in West Allis

The fees for alcohol non-compliance are $177 (1st) $303 (2nd) $681 (3rd). If the establishment passes, a letter is sent to the establishment letting them know they passed the check as a “pat n the back” for being compliant.

5. Coalition Survey

Julie Whelan Capell, Coalition Evaluator, provided a summary of the latest membership survey. Sixteen members of the WAWMCC participated in the online survey in April 2012 to help assess the progress of the coalition as a collaborative entity.

Comparing the results of the 2012 survey to those obtained in 2011, the coalition posted increased scores on all factors except one, which stayed the same. WAWMCC scored between 3.0 and 3.9 on fifteen of the factors, which is considered borderline, and those factors should continue to be discussed by coalition members. As a relatively young coalition, it is not surprising that many factors would be scored in this range. The coalition scored between 4.0 and 4.3 (out of a possible 5.0) on five factors, indicating these are strengths of the organization:

- a. History of collaboration or cooperation in the community
- b. Favorable political and social climate
- c. Open and frequent communication
- d. Unique purpose
- e. Skilled leadership.

6. Youth Updates

West Allis Central SADD Chapter

Students Sarah Thornton, Ariana Van Parys, William Blinderman and Andrew Beringer provided a summary of their activities to encourage youth to avoid the dangers of underage drinking, drug use, impaired driving and other destructive decisions. The students developed an information campaign to discourage destructive lifestyle decisions, specifically focusing on the dangers of smoking and alcohol. The group created and copied posters, displaying almost 100 messages throughout Central High School. In spring the students focused on a pre-prom message about the dangers of drinking and driving, developing a video and an accompanying educational brochure that was distributed to all homerooms and shown during CAP the week before prom. The student group is brainstorming ideas for next year to continue and expand their positive impact on the school culture.

WAWM Learning Center James E. Dotke High School Teen Experience

Students Shannon Rodriguez and Taylor Watson shared information about their program Teen Experience. Students decided to focus on a wide range of destructive decisions including alcohol and drug use, depression, suicide, teen pregnancy and truancy. Their project was to collect and videotape individual stories of personal challenges and how each person is making positive decisions to overcome the challenges, with an emphasis on how other people influenced them in positive ways. They have expressed interest in placing the video on YouTube to impact a greater number of people. Taylor also shared how to find her YouTube video on the web. The group is planning to continue next school year.

Nathan Hale High School Peers with Impact

Student Alayna Kohloff provided information about the Peers with IMPACT program, a peer-to-peer alcohol, tobacco and other drug abuse prevention program. Seventeen students attended a full-day training conducted by staff from the IMPACT organization, Karen Kolberg and KC Missall. The trained Peers students conducted 11 presentations for the 7th grade students, approximately 225 students, at Frank Lloyd Wright Intermediate School. Thirteen of the 14 participating students are returning to Hale next year and expressed an interest in offering the Peers program again with the possibility of expanding to include presentations at all intermediate schools. Some of the Peers are also Mentors at Hale and plan to incorporate portions of the Peers activities into their mentoring lessons with high school students.

School Age Parent Program Baby Basics and Beyond

Students Mikayla Dent, David Condon, Alyss Witkowski and Alexis Basemore shared their goal to educate parents about the impact alcohol has on their children and their parenting. The students, through funding by a grant from WAWMCC, worked on educational materials for two community events, Three to Get Ready and Baby Basics and Beyond. The students developed display boards and a PowerPoint presentation on alcohol and parenting, as well as one on second-hand and third-hand smoke. The students also designed T-shirts for Baby Basics, selected educational giveaways for event participants, developed a Safety Bingo game and created educational brochures for parents who attended. Baby Basics, held at Aurora West Allis Medical Center, was hosted by the school age parents who presented their information to over 250 community members. The school age parent group plans to continue their involvement in educational community events in the future.

Life of an Athlete (LOA) Training

Over 450 students and coaches from southeastern WI, including 41 students and coaches from WAWM Central and Hale, attended the March 28 training conducted by John Underwood. The goal of this student training is to have the student attendees take the LOA concept and program, showing the negative effects of alcohol, drugs and substance abuse on both academics and athletics while stressing the importance of leadership and motivation, back to their individual schools to share with their teammates and other students.

7. THINK Program

- a. Rod Nelson from the West Allis Police Department presented an overview of his successful 5th grade THINK program. This Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (AODA) awareness program promotes character building and healthy behaviors and choices. The Council tracks legislation and also serves as a forum for discussion on prevention issues. The State Council is strongly interested in the activities of the WI Tavern League. Compliance checks have also been positive with 100% compliance in June and December checks.

Local trends indicate marijuana is the number one drug with local teens. A K2 ordinance continues in effect with May compliance checks finding none in stores. Adult trends are heroin and prescription drugs. West Allis has a fax/email system to local pharmacies. The West Allis 24 hour drop box recovered 164 pounds of pills from September 2011 through April 2012 and 338 pounds of pills from May through September 2012 (including the DEA Drug Drop-off Day).

Chief Nasci from West Milwaukee reported there were fewer underage drinking parties in 2012, with alcohol being obtained in the home and beer from garages.

He also reported that underage tobacco use continues to be an issue and heroin and prescription drug abuse for adults. The West Milwaukee Police Department now also has a 24 hour drop box available in their lobby for prescription and over-the-counter drugs.

The state alcohol density report, July 2012, was also shared.
